THIRD EDITION.

THE

Supplemental Hymn and Tune Book,

(WITH NEW APPENDIX)

EDITED BY ROBERT BROWN-BORTHWICK,
INCUMBENT OF GRANGE, KESWICK.

Dedicated, with express permission, to H.R.H. VICTORIA, Crown Princess of Prussia, Princess Royal of England.

Under the sanction of the Lord Bishop of Worcester.

Price 6s. 6d. Words alone (bound) 6d.

OPINIONS OF THE PRESS.

From the Pall-Mall Gazette.

"Mr. Brown-Borthwick's volume needed no apology when first issued in a smaller form than the present, and it assuredly requires none now, seeing that every enlargement has added to its interest and value. * * * Mr. John Goss, Mr. E. J. Hopkins, and Mr. J. Baptiste Calkin have composed unison tunes for this volume, which, with one or two exceptions, are models of their kind."

From the Choir and Musical Record.

"We cannot too heartily recommend the collection of gems contained in the Supplemental Hymn and Tune Book."

From the Choirmaster.

"By far the most interesting publication of late years in the way of new hymn-music. There is scarcely a page in the volume which might not justly be made the subject of admiring comment."

From the Spectator.

"We commend the result of much patient labour and unusual musical talent to the notice of our readers."

From the Orchestra.

"The Editor is deserving of thanks for his selection, not less than for the tunes he has composed, which are certainly among the best in the book."

From the Globe.

"The book is a most valuable addition to our national hymnody, and we can cordially recommend it for use in conjunction with any of the well-known collections now generally adopted."

From the Press and St. James's Chronicle.

"Of the tunes it may be said that they are all good, many of them singularly so, that none are common-places, and that in all of them the composers while by no means careless as to harmony, have studied that which is especially essential to success in hymn-tune writing, a melody which readily adapts itself to the ear, and is easily retained in the memory. When it is added that besides these essentials the music throughout the book is pleasing as well as devotional in character, there is surely nothing to be desired."

From the Churchman's Shilling Magazine.

"As an addition to our present stock of really sound Church Tunes, this collection has a special value."

From the Oxford Times.

"We cordially recommend it to our readers, and we trust ere long to find it used, not only 'in Quires and places where they sing,' but also in our family circles, where we are sure it will be no less welcome as a valuable addition to our collections of sacred music."

From the Oxford Herald.

"It would seem almost impossible after the numerous issues from the press in the shape of hymnals and selections of Psalm Tunes, to find room for another, which would gain and merit the patronage of the public. In the instance of the above-named publication, we are enabled to say that it is worthy of comparison with any of its predecessors, and very superior in respect of melody and usefulness to Parochial Choirs generally."

From the Church Chronicle.

"With the small space at our disposal, we cannot refer to the tunes in detail, but we are convinced that every educated musician will agree in pronouncing the collection, from an art point of view, to be the finest ever issued from the press."

From the Musical Times.

"We cannot refrain from saying that in our experience we have never come across a Hymn Tune in which the charm of melody has been more happily seconded by musicianly harmonies, than in the setting of the hymn 'Praise, my soul, the King of Heaven,' by Mr. Goss. We repeat, that it is at once the most beautiful and dignified Hymn Tune, which has lately come under our notice; creditable, in the highest degree, to its composer, and of unutterable value as a guide to young writers, who have latterly been so much given to roaming about 'at their own sweet will' in the matter of style. The influence for good which such a tune as this cannot fail to produce on modern Hymn-writing, is simply incalculable. Of other writers, we may mention an unison setting (with varied harmonies), of the hymn 'Saviour, again to Thy dear Name we raise,' by E. J. Hopkins, as being, in all respects, perfectly beautiful. A varied arrangement of the well-known Tune, 'St. Ann's,' by Mr. Sullivan, is also masterly to the last degree. Not less so is a setting of the 'Dies iræ,' by Dr. Stainer, in which some fine and original effects are indicated in the accompaniments. Mr. J. B. Calkin as usual, is picturesque, fanciful in his harmonizations, and successful in every respect; and Mr. J. C. Ward deserves a word of warm commendation for his tune to 'O day of rest and gladness,' which is as good as most things in the book."
